

Resilient American Communities Program

Where would COVID-19 infection happen?

CDC is aggressively responding to the global outbreak of COVID-19 and community spread in the United States. CDC's all of community approach is focused to slow the transmission of COVID-19, reduce illness and death, while minimizing social and economic impacts.

Americans should be prepared for the possibility of a COVID-19 outbreak in their community. The community can take measures to reduce the spread of COVID-19.

Advice for appropriate action in homes, schools, universities, workplaces and other community buildings and gathering places is available at the link below.

More Information on how to prepare and take action for COVID-19

Source: "Preventing COVID-19 Spread in Communities." Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, 3 Mar. 2020, www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-ncov/community/index.html.